TECHNOLOGY IN MIND

CATEGORY A Mixed Media

We wanted to show the people in our imagination as video game characters because we grew up playing games online. This artwork showcases video game application icons from our imagination and how our experiences with technology has changed the way we see the world today.

Teacher Mentor's Comments

The students shared and explored their ideas as a team. They were enthusiastic in their art making process and kept pitching ideas to make their artwork stand out. They showed perseverance in completing their artwork and I am very proud of their creation.
